

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000

Your request for information has now been considered and the Council's response to your questions is shown below.

You asked:

Could you provide details of these freelance translators and the rate of pay awarded to them?

ANSWER:

We consider this to be personal information, these are individuals, not company's. As such we are withholding that information since we consider that to be an absolute exemption under section 40(2) (personal data), and this therefore constitutes a refusal under section 17 of the Freedom of information Act 2000.

How are they recruited?

We recruit the freelance interpreters after studying their CVs, followed by an interview and the decisions are made according to their performance at the interview.

Is it directly through the Leicester City Council website?

This appointment process is not directly through the Leicester City Council website.

What qualifications do these translators hold?

We consider this to be personal information, these are individuals, not company's. As such we are withholding that information since we consider that to be an absolute exemption under section 40(2) (personal data), and this therefore constitutes a refusal under section 17 of the Freedom of information Act 2000.

The legislation allows you to use the information supplied for your own personal use. Please be aware that any commercial or other use, for example publication, sale, or redistribution may be a breach of copyright under the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 as amended unless you obtain the copyright holder's prior permission.

Not all the information that is supplied which is covered by copyright will be the Council's copyright, for example it may be the copyright of a government department or another Council. You should seek either the Council's consent or their consent as appropriate. The Council is willing to advise you of any such potential issues on request. In order to make a request to re-use the information please contact the Information Governance Manager using the details below.
