Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for looking into this, the plan corresponds with how the property is appointed right now.

Delays in Planning Service: The Planning Service is experiencing unprecedented volumes of planning applications and requests for pre application advice. Like most planning authorities we are experiencing staff shortages due to a national shortage of planning staff, together with the cumulative impact of Covid-19 related staffing absences. We are working hard to overcome these challenges but have had to introduce new procedures to help manage workloads, including returning applications that are significantly incomplete and refusing applications where there is clearly little prospect of achieving an approval. Due to the need to tackle the backlog as a priority, responses to emails, phone calls and other queries asking for updates on progress may be delayed.

There will be pressure on processing of both major and minor applications. We apologise for the delays that will be experienced in arranging pre-application advice and validating and dealing with planning submissions but please be reassured we are working as hard as resources allow to resolve these challenges.
