

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT 2000

Your request for information has now been considered and the Council's response to your questions is shown below.

You asked:

Using the Freedom of Information Act I would like to receive a full detailed list of all current places of worship in Leicester.

Please reply in email and in writing.

ANSWER

To answer this request we have extracted records from our Land and Property database. This aims to have a comprehensive record of properties in the City. However, to maintain it we are dependent on using a variety sources from within and outside the Council and consequently it is continually changing and it takes time for notifications to arrive, be checked and added to the system.

Taking all that into account, the attached spread-sheet lists 208 records we have at the moment.

The legislation allows you to use the information supplied for your own personal use. Please be aware that any commercial or other use, for example publication, sale, or redistribution may be a breach of copyright under the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 as amended unless you obtain the copyright holder's prior permission.

Not all the information that is supplied which is covered by copyright will be the Council's copyright, for example it may be the copyright of a government department or another Council. You should seek either the Council's consent or their consent as appropriate. The Council is willing to advise you of any such potential issues on request. In order to make a request to re-use the information please contact the Information Governance Manager using the details below.
